

The Bulletin's Circulation in Norwich is Double That of Any Other Paper, and Its Total Circulation is the Largest in Proportion to the City's Population

PROTESTS INNOCENCE TO FATHER

Richeson Greets Aged Parent Whom He Had Not Seen For Seven Years

A DRAMATIC SCENE AT CELL DOOR

Poison Receptacle Not Found in Miss Linnell's Bathroom—About a Dozen Witnesses to go Before Grand Jury Today—Members of the Richeson Family Flocking to Boston—Petition of Defence Denied by Court.

Boston, Oct. 25.—Colonel Thomas Richeson, of Norwich, Conn., who is charged with the murder of his daughter, Miss Linnell, was seen today by his father, Mr. Richeson, who is aged and infirm, and who was brought to the cell door of the Boston House of Correction, where his daughter was held, and where he was seen by a number of witnesses. The scene was a dramatic one, and the father, who had not seen his son for seven years, was seen by a number of witnesses. The father, who is aged and infirm, was brought to the cell door of the Boston House of Correction, where his daughter was held, and where he was seen by a number of witnesses. The scene was a dramatic one, and the father, who had not seen his son for seven years, was seen by a number of witnesses.

"My Boy! My Boy!" The father, who is aged and infirm, was brought to the cell door of the Boston House of Correction, where his daughter was held, and where he was seen by a number of witnesses. The scene was a dramatic one, and the father, who had not seen his son for seven years, was seen by a number of witnesses. The father, who is aged and infirm, was brought to the cell door of the Boston House of Correction, where his daughter was held, and where he was seen by a number of witnesses. The scene was a dramatic one, and the father, who had not seen his son for seven years, was seen by a number of witnesses.

All of Richeson's Family Coming. Colonel Richeson left the jail as he came, in a closed carriage, in which were Frank H. Carter, who is charged with the murder of his daughter, Miss Linnell, and who was brought to the cell door of the Boston House of Correction, where his daughter was held, and where he was seen by a number of witnesses. The scene was a dramatic one, and the father, who had not seen his son for seven years, was seen by a number of witnesses.

Court Turns Down Defence's Petition. The examination yesterday of the body of Miss Linnell, which had been held for a number of days, was held in the court of the Boston House of Correction, where his daughter was held, and where he was seen by a number of witnesses. The scene was a dramatic one, and the father, who had not seen his son for seven years, was seen by a number of witnesses.

Poison Receptacle Not Found. The remains of Miss Linnell were subjected to an examination, in which it was found that no poison receptacle was found in the bathroom of the Boston House of Correction, where his daughter was held, and where he was seen by a number of witnesses. The scene was a dramatic one, and the father, who had not seen his son for seven years, was seen by a number of witnesses.

Bathrobe Had No Pocket. Medical Examiner Leary has reported to the court that the bathrobe of Miss Linnell, which was found in the bathroom of the Boston House of Correction, where his daughter was held, and where he was seen by a number of witnesses. The scene was a dramatic one, and the father, who had not seen his son for seven years, was seen by a number of witnesses.

Body Returned to Hyannis. At the conclusion of the medical examination, the body of Miss Linnell was returned to the Boston House of Correction, where his daughter was held, and where he was seen by a number of witnesses. The scene was a dramatic one, and the father, who had not seen his son for seven years, was seen by a number of witnesses.

Case Before Grand Jury Today. The Suffolk County grand jury, at a special sitting called for today, will hear the case of the Boston House of Correction, where his daughter was held, and where he was seen by a number of witnesses. The scene was a dramatic one, and the father, who had not seen his son for seven years, was seen by a number of witnesses.

Witnesses Summoned. All the members of the Linnell family will go before the grand jury today, and will be seen by a number of witnesses. The scene was a dramatic one, and the father, who had not seen his son for seven years, was seen by a number of witnesses.

About a Dozen Witnesses. Boston, Oct. 25.—Chief Inspector Dugan stated tonight that about a dozen witnesses will probably be called before the grand jury today, and will be seen by a number of witnesses. The scene was a dramatic one, and the father, who had not seen his son for seven years, was seen by a number of witnesses.

Many Letters Received. Each day brings scores of letters to the police, many of them from persons purporting to be disgraced, Chief Dugan said tonight. Some of them were leniently because of Mr. Richeson's professional position and others asking for the opposite for the same reason. Many also contain suggestions for police action.

An Unreliable Witness. Speaking of persons who have been interviewed by the police, Chief Dugan said tonight that about a dozen witnesses will probably be called before the grand jury today, and will be seen by a number of witnesses. The scene was a dramatic one, and the father, who had not seen his son for seven years, was seen by a number of witnesses.

Cabled Paragraphs

Canton, China, Oct. 25.—The newly appointed British general, Fung Sen, was assassinated on his arrival to assume his duties today.

Berlin, Oct. 25.—It was officially announced today that the elections for members of the reichstag would be held on January 12. Before the present session closes the reichstag hopes.

Rome, Oct. 25.—The pope is anxious concerning the condition of Emperor Francis Joseph, and has instructed Mgr. Bissleti, majordomo of the Vatican, who is just now in Vienna, to keep him advised of the true situation.

Lizard, England, Oct. 25.—The Holland-American liner, the Rotterdam, which broke a crankshaft after sailing from Rotterdam on October 18 for Boston, and requested assistance, passed here today, making for Southampton.

Paris, Oct. 25.—The police inquiry and autopsy following the death of Raymond Knight, son of Ridgway Knight, the American painter, who died Monday, resulted in a decision that death was due to an overdose of a sleeping mixture, probably taken accidentally.

Lisbon, Portugal, Oct. 25.—The patriarch of Lisbon has sent to the Vatican a list of 2,150 priests who are accepting a pension from the government and the names of 5,800 who have refused this aid. Of the latter 2,400 are destitute. The Vatican has decided to give the penniless a small monthly allowance.

TOBACCO TRUST PLAN MEETS WITH OPPOSITION

Independents Claim That It Will Not Restore Competition.

New York, Oct. 25.—Opponents and supporters of the plan which the American Tobacco company has mapped out for the dissolution of the trust, met here today. Counsel for the so-called independent tobacco manufacturers and producers and their brief of objections but a few hours when a lawyer for a committee of the preferred stockholders of the trust, who had been called to the aid of the trust, said, would not only fairly and honestly dissolve the corporation, but would also restore competition.

The attorney said that he represented the owners of 48,000 shares of the trust's preferred stock. The plan, he said, would not only fairly and honestly dissolve the corporation, but would also restore competition. The attorney said that he represented the owners of 48,000 shares of the trust's preferred stock. The plan, he said, would not only fairly and honestly dissolve the corporation, but would also restore competition.

Counsel for the objectors, after submitting their contention that the proposed dissolution plan does not, in reality, dissolve the trust, and that it is merely a device to restore competition, said that the plan would not only fairly and honestly dissolve the corporation, but would also restore competition.

The objectors further point out that the plan contemplates leaving intact the "father" of the company, "No plan," it asserts, "can be effective to restore competition which does not provide for dividing the business and property of the company among a number of independent groups of individuals."

GOVERNOR FOSS AND HIS COUNCIL AT ODDS

Councillors Refuse to Confirm Several Nominations.

Boston, Oct. 25.—On the ground that the qualifications should be further investigated, the council refused to confirm several nominations of the governor. The council refused to confirm several nominations of the governor. The council refused to confirm several nominations of the governor.

WILL BEARD THE LION IN HIS DEN

President Taft to Invade LaFollette's State Today.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 25.—President Taft, who is expected to visit the state today, will be seen by a number of witnesses. The scene was a dramatic one, and the father, who had not seen his son for seven years, was seen by a number of witnesses.

Naval Flyers Find It Cold.

Waterbury Student Class Secretary.

New Haven, Oct. 25.—The senior class of the Yale Sheffield scientific school tonight elected Theophilus M. Hyde, 30, of Waterbury, class secretary. This is the only elective office given during the three years of undergraduate life, the office of president being held by a senior.

Giants Win Out

In the Tenth

WINNING RUN SCORED WITHOUT TOUCHING HOME PLATE.

NO PROTEST BY ATHLETICS

Consequently Game Stands to New York's Credit—McGraw's Men Show Up Strong With the Willow.

New York, Oct. 25.—The New York Giants today won their eighth game in a row, defeating the Philadelphia Athletics in the tenth inning. The winning run was scored without touching home plate. The game was a close one, with the Athletics leading in the ninth inning, but the Giants came back in the tenth and won.

Doyle Failed to Touch Plate.

While the Giants earned their triumph largely by hard and clean hitting, it was said tonight by Empire Klem, the National League official who was behind the plate during the contest, that the Athletics had been taken by the Giants on the last play of the game, when with two out Doyle failed to touch the plate. The Athletics had been leading in the ninth inning, but the Giants came back in the tenth and won.

Giants Tie in the Ninth.

Nobody in the stands knew anything of the drama and the edge of the crowd's enthusiasm was not stirred by the injection of any technicalities. Seldom, indeed, it even has there been such a close game. The Athletics had been leading in the ninth inning, but the Giants came back in the tenth and won.

Olding's Homer Scored Three Runs.

New York hopes were at a low ebb when the game started with the Athletics leading in the first inning. The Giants came back in the tenth and won.

Giants' Luck Doubles.

The turning point of the struggle may be reached from Crandall's entering the game. The husky pitcher who was passed on this occasion without a hit in the eighth inning, came in the ninth, tenth, and eleventh, and won the game for the Giants.

New York Fans Go Wild.

The enthusiasm which accompanied this feat was indescribable. The shouting and cheering from the stands became a steady roar. The Giants came back in the tenth and won.

Giants Finally Found Combs.

The life of the game centered in the third, ninth and tenth innings, and the pitchers were not so much the focus of interest as in the preceding games of the series. After Olding's home run in the third, the Athletics had a lead, but the Giants came back in the tenth and won.

Pitchers Well Supported.

Starting fielding was not marked during the game. One of the best fielding features was a shoestring throw by Doyle in the first inning. Both sides supported their pitchers in fine style, however, only one misplay being charged against Philadelphia and two against New York.

Indicted For

Wife's Murder

GRAND JURY REPORTS IN THE M'FARLAND CASE.

MCFARLAND'S EXPLANATION

Says Bromide and Cyanide of Potassium Are so Different a Blind Man Could Not Make Mistake in Them.

Newark, N. J., Oct. 25.—Allison McFarland, advertising manager for a well known electrical firm, was indicted by the Essex county grand jury today on a charge of murdering his wife by the use of cyanide of potassium. The court room was crowded by a number of persons who had anticipated that the indictment would be returned.

McFarland's Explanation.

The accused man was not in court, but when he heard at the fall that the indictment had been returned he stated that his defence would be that his wife's death was accidental or suicidal, and gave out a lengthy explanation of the case, in part as follows:

Had No Motive For Murder.

I have plenty of motives for divorce, but none for murder. The bromide referred to was a solution of bromide, which I have always understood to be a dangerous drug, and not a thing to take in the dark. This was the only bromide in the house. So far as I know it is a black and white compound, and having a very penetrating odor and a characteristic disagreeable taste.

Cyanide Was Plainly Labeled.

I gave some to my wife on three or four occasions, and she liked it, but she complained it was "done" and she objected to the taste; and it had no apparent effect on her. The cyanide solution was plainly labeled with white paper marked with black ink: "Poison—cyanide solution."

Nonsense To Say He Chanced Labels.

The published story about my changing labels is the rankest nonsense. A microscopic examination of the label should refute the idea. I do not think, however, that anyone in the family could make such a mistake. Cyanide solution is a clear, colorless liquid like water and has no marked odor. It is a very nasty taste and one's first instinct on getting any of it in their mouth would be to spit it out and rinse their mouth.

Cyanide Different From Bromide.

"It is totally different from bromide and is not a thing to take in the dark. I would rather let it go as a mistake and do so, hoping the common sense of the authorities would show them the absurdity."

Asks Friends to Suspend Judgment.

"It seems, however, that I am compelled to defend the charge and can do so if necessary. I ask my friends to suspend judgment until they hear it all. The affair is one for extreme care and regard on my part. I had a murder charge is absurd. I had all to lose and nothing to gain by my wife's death under such circumstances."

WANTED A SLICE OF STEPHENSON'S WEALTH.

Had He Been Poor Campaigners Would Have Worked For Nothing.

Condensed Telegrams

President Taft got rain-soaked while making speeches in Minnesota.

The post office safe at Sharpville, Pa., was blown open and robbed of $5,000.

The Government filed a fifth suit against the so-called Lumber Trust at St. Paul, Minn.

The Catholic Young Men's National union elected officers and decided to hold its next convention in Brooklyn.

The fall council of the General Conference Committee of the Seventh Day Adventists was held in Washington.

Martha Razer, a 12 year old animal trainer, who was attacked by a circus lion at Jackson, Miss., died of her injuries.

President Taft's proclamation, declaring the neutrality of the United States in the European war, was promulgated to the European powers.

Nathan B. Stehn, son of a millionaire merchant of New York, was lost in the mountains of Colorado until rescued by a searching party.

Fire in the Dry Room of the Batte, Mont., reduction works destroyed the concentrator system, but the loss was estimated at from $250,000 to $300,000.

The improvement in the textile business in New England, which became noticeable last month, continues, especially in the woolen goods industry.

The Chinese Government has withdrawn its request of the United States for permission to postpone payment of the Boxer indemnity.

It is estimated that the casualties in Peshawar, Tripoli, during the Italian bombardment, totaled 4,000. The British consulate was damaged and the consul wounded.

S. Alfred Sze Has Been Selected to be Chinese minister in Washington to succeed the incumbent, Chang Yih Chang, who is now in Mexico. Sze is a graduate of Cornell university.

The Present Board of Directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad company was re-elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders of the company yesterday.

The Name of Augustus Seaver of Boston, candidate for governor of Massachusetts on a labor ticket, was dropped by the ballot law commission.

The Biplane of C. P. Rodgers, the coast to coast flyer, was wrecked at Spofford, Texas, yesterday, as the aviator attempted to take the air. It was at least three days to make repairs.

The new buildings which the Andover Theological Seminary, recently transferred from Andover, Mass., to Cambridge, Mass., will occupy, were dedicated yesterday with appropriate ceremonies.

Paymaster's Clerk J. Fuller, recently found guilty on charges of embezzlement in his accounts on board the receiving ship Independence, at Mare Island navy yard, has been summarily dismissed from the service.

Jumping from a Railroad Trestle, to avoid being run over by a passenger train, Senator Stephen D. Dwyer, of Roxbury, narrowly escaped death by drowning in the Housatonic river at Pittsfield, Mass., yesterday.

Second Assistant Postmaster General Joseph Stewart welcomed to Washington yesterday on behalf of the post department, the National Association of Postmasters of the second and third classes, in annual convention.

The Practice of Mill Overseers of grading goods according to quality and of paying the lowest prices was declared by Attorney General Swift of Massachusetts to be within the statute which prohibits the "fining" of goods.

S. M. Butler of New York City was instantly killed at Tipton, Ga., yesterday, when the automobile in which he was driving in the Glenn town was overturned. T. J. Walker and his wife, whose addresses are unobtainable, were hurt.

Emphatically Denying Reports that he had changed his mind about retiring to private life, Senator Joseph W. Bailey of Texas, in an interview, stated that his decision to leave the senate at the expiration of his present term in 1913 was irrevocable.

Gov. Eugene N. Foss obtained his renomination as Democratic candidate for governor of Massachusetts at recent primaries without the expenditure of a cent, according to a statement made by George M. Harlow, the Governor's assistant private secretary.

No Motive For

Knabe Murder

NEITHER ROBBERY NOR ASSAULT COMMITTED.

THE POLICE STILL AT SEA

Coroner Positive It is a Case of Murder, But Police Captain Sees Slight Possibility of Woman's Suicide.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 25.—"If Dr. Knabe was murdered, as appears, I am satisfied she was murdered by a person with whom she was acquainted, and that she voluntarily let this person into her apartment. But the theory of suicide still will not let itself be neglected."

Police Captain's Summing Up.

With this statement, Captain William Holtz, chief of the detective department, summed up tonight the day's activity by the police in the investigation of the death of Dr. Helene Knabe, former state bacteriologist, whose room was cut while she lay on her bed at an undetermined hour last Monday night.

Coroner Says It is Murder.

"I cannot say anything but murder in this case," said Dr. C. O. Durham, coroner for Marion county, in his inquest today. "The instrument of death was not found and circumstances indicating suicide appear to me to be negligible."

Robbery Was Not Motive.

Captain Holtz said that he did not intend to reflect upon the character of Dr. Knabe, in saying he believed she was murdered. "The heavy stress was put on the fact that she was not the motive, and physicians have decided that personal assault was not committed. The heavy stress was put on the fact that she was not the motive, and physicians have decided that personal assault was not committed."

Lights Were Burning.

The electric lights in the bedroom were burning when Dr. Knabe's body was found yesterday morning. These are but a few of the indications that lead me to believe she knew the person that killed her, if indeed she did not know him. The lights were burning when Dr. Knabe's body was found yesterday morning.

Cousin and Assistant Questioned.

Some of Dr. Knabe's friends suggested to the police that the theory that she was murdered by a person with whom she was acquainted, and that she voluntarily let this person into her apartment. But the theory of suicide still will not let itself be neglected."

Suicide Not Impossible.

"There is this to be said for the suicide theory," said Captain Holtz, after the examination of the body of Miss Knabe. "There is this to be said for the suicide theory, said Captain Holtz, after the examination of the body of Miss Knabe."

HOLYOKE MAN FOUND HANGING AT ROCKVILLE

Left His Son's Home for Holyoke 8 Weeks Ago.

Rockville, Conn., Oct. 25.—The body of a man badly decomposed, found in a tree in the woods about three miles west of here by a hunter today, was identified late today as that of Herbert C. Rogers, a Holyoke, Mass., man. Identification was made by Neumann's son, who identified the clothing as that worn by his father.

RECOVERED $8,243 FROM OIL TRUST

New York Dealer Claimed That It Ruined His Business.

New York, Oct. 25.—John J. Moran, formerly a well to do dealer in oils and paints here, won $8,243 damages against the Standard Oil company today on the ground that the corporation had forced him out of business. Mr. Moran sued for $8,000. He charged that the Standard Oil company was anxious to get his business and finally ruined his trade by furnishing him goods of such poor quality that he lost his customers. He was awarded judgment by a jury in the supreme court.

$750,000 for Bryn Mawr College.